About Us

TUCRIN is Turkish Clinical Research Infrastructures Network, founded under Rectorate of Dokuz Eylul University, Izmir. TUCRIN is a partner of ECRIN, a European Union Seventh Framework Programme project.

TUCRIN is planned to consist of clinical trial centres and clinical reserach units, spread across Turkey. Each TUCRIN member is supposed to locally support investigators, sponsored by public funds or industry, in conducting and coordinating clinical trials and to provide consult and training.

TUCRIN has been founded to improve the quality of clinical research conducted in Turkey and the safety of participants.

TUCRIN-COMBACTE Partnership

15.04.2015

TUCRIN will be a partner in COMBACTE (Combating Bacterial Resistance in Europe), a project under the Innovative Medicines Initiative (IMI) funded New Drugs for Bad Bugs (ND4BB) program. TUCRIN will find and help coordinate potential participating sites for the ASPIRE-ICU trial. Potential sites in Turkey will be contacted via TUCRIN with an official letter of invitation from COMBACTE.
